Dr. Kenya Davis-Hayes

speaking on

Cal Humanities: A State of Open Mind

Dr. Davis-Hayes is an active Board member of Cal Humanities, which was founded in 1975 as the California Council for the Humanities, a granting organization and independent non-profit partner of the National Endowment for the Humanities. Over the years, the group has grown and evolved, now promoting the humanities as relevant and necessary by creating, producing, funding, and supporting "humanities-based projects and programs, eye-opening cultural experiences, and meaningful conversations."

Her affiliation with Cal Humanities began in 2007, when then-Governor Arnold Schwarzenegger appointed her to the Board. This was followed in short order by Board membership in the Women's Empowerment Foundation and the International Visitor's Council. She has a rich and timely repertoire of humanities-related topics from which to choose as she tells us about this organization and its work.
