our speaker:

"H.E." Kamiya Discusses Experiences as an Internee

A famous philosopher said those who forget history are bound to repeat it. Many Omniloreans have tales to tell about our history that we need to remember. None is more important than the experiences of H.E. Kamiya, a longtime member of our organization. His real name is Ehiichi but he adopted the letters H.E. which sound like his name.

As a child he was sent to a relocation center during World War II. The son of a principal of a Japanese language and culture school in the Long Beach area, H.E. was nine years old when the war started. "My parents had many heartaches when uprooted from their Long Beach home in 1942, after Pearl Harbor," he said. "But they never gave my three sisters and me any sense of bitterness, telling us only of some related incidents."

Those who have heard H.E. speak about his experiences say his remembrances are not to be missed.
